

New in Reporting: Self-Reporting

With the CL-150's new Self-Reporting feature learners can record the time they spend on language learning outside of the CL-150 Platform.

Self-Reporting Time

Learners and sustainers can use 'Add new journal entry' to track and record time spent reading foreign books or newspapers, time spent with fellow learners speaking in your target language, or time spent watching foreign TV shows, browsing foreign websites, and more. This time will appear in all admin reports, and learners can also 'Run a report' to track their own time.

LEARNING BROWSE ALPHABET CLASSES & GROUPS REPORTING AUTHORIZING

SELF-REPORTED TIME

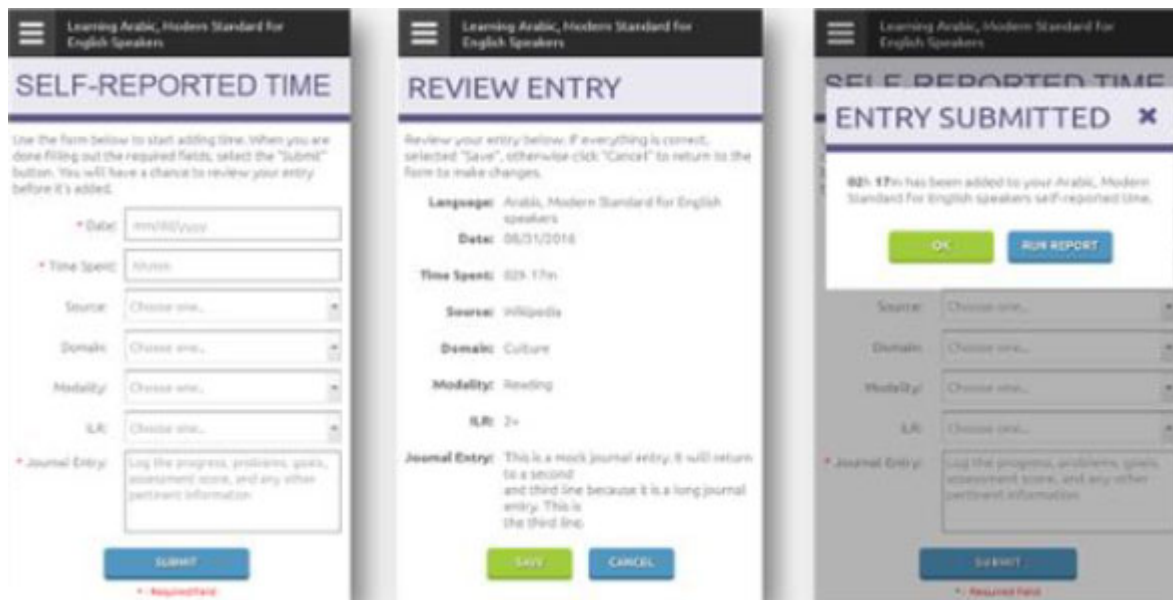

REPORTING SELF-REPORTED TIME

Use the form below to add a journal entry. When you are done filling out the required fields, submit the entry. You will have a chance to review it before it's added.

* Date:	07/11/2017	Source:	Other	Modality:	Reading
* Time spent:	00:10	Domain:	Politics	ILR:	2+
* Journal entry:	Read the Thai language dailynews.co.th article: https://www.dailynews.co.th/crime/584990 about the Attorney General of Thailand transferring certain types of narcotics investigations from the Special Prosecutor Office to his office.

SUBMIT

* - Required Field

Run A Report

Learners can generate an activity report or a journal entry report to track all aspects of their language learning progress. My Activity Report will continue to return detailed information on the amount of assignment time, Learned Vocab time, and other time spent on aspects of the CL-150. But now it will integrate your self-reported language activity time as well.

The Journal Entry Report will allow you to see the complete history of your self-reported time journal entries. Reports can be printed right away or saved in PDF or CSV format.

Questions about CL-150 Self-Reporting? Contact us at usg@transparent.com