

Upcoming CL-150 Orientations – December 2020/January 2021

Whether you're brand new to the CL-150, you haven't logged in recently, or you're a power user looking to implement the latest features, our monthly orientations are a time for you to check in and ask questions.

Register using the links below or visit the CL-150 Orientations page to register anytime, keep track of upcoming sessions, and spread the word to your colleagues or students.

Learner Orientations

We're excited to show you the CL-150 Platform in action! We'll review account set-up and course subscriptions, then explore available materials and features for reviewing vocabulary, practicing the four modalities, maintaining proficiency, and more.

- Thursday, December 17, 2020: 1:30-2:30pm ET Register
- Tuesday January 26, 2021: 10:00-11:00am ET Register

Program Manager Orientations

We'll review the learner features to ensure you understand your learners' experience, including available materials and features for reviewing vocabulary, practicing the four modalities, maintaining proficiency, and more. Then we'll cover program management features, including creating reporting groups, setting requirements, sending messages, and running reports.

- Tuesday, December 8, 2020: 10:00-11:30am ET Register
- Thursday January 21, 2021: 1:30-2:30pm ET Register

Instructor Orientation

We'll review the learner features to ensure you understand your students' experience, including available materials and features for reviewing vocabulary, practicing the four modalities, maintaining proficiency, and more. Then we'll cover class management features, including creating classes, making assignments, sending class messages, and creating class reports.

- Thursday January 7, 2021: 1:30-2:30pm ET Register

Lesson Authoring New Features Orientation

Normally we do an introduction to the Lesson Authoring tool for beginners, but we released a lot of new authoring features in 2020, so we're using the January webinar as a recap! Join us to see what's new, including 360-degree image activities, a transcription activity, and more. (And if you're not familiar with Lesson Authoring yet, be sure to watch our introductory webinar here.)

- Tuesday, January 12, 2021: 10:00-11:15am ET Register

We hope to see you at one of these sessions in the coming weeks!
