

More lessons, less lesson planning.

Join us Tuesday, March 23rd at 10:30am ET for our biggest time-saving secret for language instructors: how to use CL-150 lessons synchronously.

Lesson plans are a bit like recipes.

You can't just throw in a dash of this and a pinch of that and expect it turn out great the first time. But you don't even need the recipe after you've made it a few times.

CL-150 lessons are designed the same way. Most lessons use a combination of 15 or so learning activities. Learn how to use those activities in class and you've got instant lesson plans!

Register now to meet our resident Portuguese instructor, Fabiana Hayden, and discuss how she uses CL-150 lessons in her classes, including:

- which learning activities work best asynchronously vs. synchronously
- how to use synchronous activities with classes of various levels and sizes

(Can't make the session? Register anyway to get a recording you can watch anytime!)
